Join us to learn about creating powerful learning environments at your school.

Modern connected learners today have more freedom and more control over the what, the when, the where, the how and the with whom than at any time in history. Our connected students are no longer bound by the limitations and compromises imposed by our traditional models of schooling.

So the critical question is, "How do we create experiences and cultures in our schools that build on their increasing agency over learning through powerful questions and personal inquiry?"

We are partnering with the Consortium for Educational Change for this lab. We know they are working with districts and schools to reimagine what learning is and should be and to bring change to current systems to make a difference! Together we are targeting districts and schools who have, are, or will be reinventing their future through strategic or school improvement planning.

Our Labs are intimate. Attendance is limited for maximum impact on your learning. They're intensive. Be prepared to think and dream hard. Hopefully come with a team to not only learn together but plan for action.

Explore the potential of learner agency and the possibilities that come through inquiry.

Learn how the culture you have influence the choices you make

See the difference between teaching cultures and learning cultures

Understand how inquiry learning and student agency impacts the choices students and teachers have in classrooms

Learn how to bridge the gap between the learning environment you have and the one you want for your students

The lab provides opportunity to build capacity throughout your system to build a mindset and a lens for continuous improvement and change.

Explore your beliefs and values

Advance your mission and vision

Identify your context for learning

Clarify your common practices

Sharpen your culture for learning

Join us! See what's possible! And let's work together to make schools powerful places of learning for the children and adults they serve. Space is limited. Register today at:
